Know Before You Go

How to Reserve a GCNWI Property

1. Visit our Property Reservations Page or girlscout.info/ReserveCamp and click “Reserve Now”
2. Use the search bar at the top or click a specific camp to view available sites
3. Once you’ve decided on an available property, sign in and complete the registration process

Property Reservation Requirements

All Girl Scouts of Greater Chicago and Northwest Indiana troop leaders, members, and volunteers reserving property must:

- Complete the Volunteer Basics Learning Path
- Hold current First Aid/CPR certification or obtain prior to reservation start date
- Complete any additional required outdoor trainings in GS Learn, based on the type of experience reserved

Non-Girl Scout groups are welcome to reserve our properties. Outside groups must provide a certificate of insurance (COI) prior to their reservation.

Required Outdoor Trainings

As troops plan day or overnight experiences at camp, the following trainings are required based on type of outing:

- Overnight Excursion Training – Required for all overnight trips
- Fire Safety and Building – Required for campfires (including s’mores or stick cooking)
- Outdoor Cooking - Required for more extensive cooking over fire or charcoal (i.e. pie irons, dutch ovens)
- Rustic Camping – Required for stays in platform tents, tabins, yurts, or pitch-your-own tent sites (outdoor cooking required)
- Basic Medication Administration – Required for troops and service units reserving Girl Scout camp sites (online training through Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction, not available in gsLearn)

Reservations for GCNWI Members/Volunteers will remain tentative until required trainings are completed. Once trainings are completed and verified, the reservation will be approved.

Pricing

- GCNWI members may access member rates when using the property for volunteer-related Girl Scout activities, including troop and service unit use.
- Prices listed in the 2026-2027 GCNWI Property Guide are for property reservations starting October 1, 2026 and onward. Prices shown online may be different than what is shown in the Property Guide.
